The copies of information being supplied to you continue to be protected by the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988. You are free to use it for your own purposes, including any non-commercial research you are doing and for the purposes of news reporting. Any other re-use, for example commercial publication, would require the permission of the copyright holder. Most documents supplied by the FCDO will have been produced by government officials and will be protected by Crown Copyright. To re-use Crown Copyright documents please consult the Open Government Licence v3 on the National Archives website.

Information you receive which is not subject to Crown Copyright continues to be protected by the copyright of the person, or organisation, from which the information originated. You must ensure that you gain their permission before reproducing any third party (non-Crown Copyright) information.

If you wish to request a review of our response, please contact us via email at Information.Rights@fcdo.gov.uk, or send a written request to the Information Rights Unit at the Foreign, Commonwealth & Development Office, located at Room WH1.144, King Charles Street, London, SW1A 2AH. When requesting an internal review, it would be beneficial if you could provide reasons for your dissatisfaction with our initial response. Please be aware that you have 40 working days from the date of this letter to submit your request.

Should you remain unsatisfied with the outcome of your review, you have the option to escalate your case to the Information Commissioner, who will evaluate our response to you and determine if we have complied with legal requirements. It is important to note that the Information Commissioner generally cannot issue a decision unless you have completed the FCDO review process as described above. You can reach the Information Commissioner at the Information Commissioner's Office, Wycliffe House, Water Lane, Wilmslow, Cheshire SK9 5AF, or submit a complaint online at the Information Commissioners Website.

Yours sincerely

Information Rights Unit
